Beekeeping have been dealing with for several years. I did not think that so I was will engage and can not know when a great passion. This passion, fascination, grew along with this how life got to know from the middle colonies in the hive. In this part of my part, I would like everyone to bring a bit as it is in the hive, where in general take the bees, where does the honey, the bees collect pollen as well as the work itself beekeeper. Anyone who wants to smell the air emanating from the hive, hold in your hand bee frame, see for yourself the mother bee - Queen invite to his apiary. We are happy to tell and share their experiences.

At the same time look forward to any suggestions concerning the site, its content and the questions that I answer.

With beekeeping greeting
